-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

1. Application Number 09/834, 264 was filed on 04/12/2001. Claims 1-13 are subject to examination.

Response to Amendment

2. The declaration filed on February 22, 2005 under 37 CFR 1.131 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the Levosky (US 2002/0087641 A1) reference.

The evidence submitted is insufficient to establish diligence from a date prior to the date of reduction to practice of the Levosky (US 2002/0087641 A1) reference to either a constructive reduction to practice or an actual reduction to practice. Please refer to MPEP §2138.06

The evidence submitted is insufficient to establish applicant's alleged actual reduction to practice of the invention in this country or a NAFTA or WTO member country after the effective date of the Levosky (US 2002/0087641 A1) reference. The reasons for diligence rare not provided.

However, the issues of searing behind the Levosky (US 2002/0087641 A1) is moot in light of the new ground of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2154

4. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Agraharam et al. (hereinafter Agraharam) (US 5, 987, 508).

Referring to claim 1,

The reference teaches a method of routing electronic mail messages to a user with a server (Fig. 1, element 110), the method comprising the steps of:

(1) receiving at a mail server an electronic mail message having a destination address (col. 4, lines 44-47, "At step 201, the sender transmits an e-mail message to a user or group of users using each recipient's telephone#@domain.sub. -- name.");

(2) receiving from a user at the mail server an identification of a main electronic mail address and at least one alias electronic mail address (col. 3, lines 35-50);

(3) comparing the destination address to the main and at least one alias electronic mail addresses; and (4) transmitting the electronic mail message to an address determined as a result of the comparing step (col. 3, line 51-66).

Referring to claim 2,

The reference teaches the method of claim 1, wherein step (4) comprises:

transmitting the electronic mail message to the destination address when the destination address is indicated as a main address; and transmitting the electronic mail message to a main address when the destination address is indicated as an alias address corresponding to the main address. (col. 3, line 51-66)

Art Unit: 2154

Referring to claim 3,

The reference teaches a method of providing an electronic mail service to users, the method comprising the steps of: (1) registering a main electronic mail address for a user; (2) providing at least one alias electronic mail address to the user; and (3) delivering electronic messages addressed to the main address and electronic mail messages addressed to the at least one alias address to a single electronic mail inbox. (col. 3, line 24-50)

Referring to claim 4,

The reference teaches the method of claim 3, further including the step of: (4) allowing the user to manage the at least one alias electronic mail address. (col. 5, line 39 through col. 6, line 5)

Referring to claims 5 and 6,

The reference teaches the method of claim 4, wherein the allowing steps comprises allowing the user to delete alias electronic mail addresses, and the method of claim 4, wherein the allowing steps comprises allowing the user to add alias electronic mail addresses. (col. 5, line 24 through col. 6, line 5,)

Referring to claims 7 and 8,

The reference teaches the method of claim 3, further including the step of providing a record of electronic messages sent by and received by the at least one alias electronic mail address. (col. 5, lines 30-37), and the method of claim 7, further including the step of displaying electronic messages received by the at least one alias electronic mail address. col. 5, line 24 through col. 6, line 5)

Art Unit: 2154

Referring to claim 9,

The reference teaches the method of claim 3, further including the step of providing the main electronic mail address to the user. (col. 6, lines 6-22)

Referring to claim 10,

The reference teaches an electronic mail server configured to perform the steps of:

(1) receiving an electronic mail message having a destination address (col. 4, lines 44-47, "At step 201, the sender transmits an e-mail message to a user or group of users using each recipient's telephone#@domain.sub.--name.");

(2) comparing the destination address to addresses included in a database of main and alias electronic mail addresses (col. 3, lines 35-50); and

(3) transmitting the electronic mail message to an address determined as a result of the comparing step (col. 3, line 51-66).

Referring to claim 11,

The reference teaches the mail server of claim 10, wherein step (3) comprises: transmitting the electronic mail message to the destination address when the destination address is indicated as a main address in the database; and transmitting the electronic mail message to a main address when the destination address is indicated as an alias address corresponding to the main address in the database. (col. 3, line 51-66)

Referring to claim 12,

Claim 12 is a claim to a computer-readable medium having computer-executable instructions for performing the method steps of claim 1. Therefore claim 12 is rejected for the reasons set forth for claim 1.

Art Unit: 2154

Referring to claim 13,

The reference teaches an electronic mail system comprising: an electronic mail server (Fig. 1, element 110) configured to perform the steps of:

(1) receiving an electronic mail message having a destination address (col. 4, lines 44-47, "At step 201, the sender transmits an e-mail message to a user or group of users using each recipient's telephone#@domain.sub.--name.");

(2) comparing the destination address to addresses included in a database of main and alias electronic mail addresses; and (3) transmitting the electronic mail message to an address determined as a result of the comparing step; and a computer coupled to the electronic mail server and including computer executable instructions that allow a user to send electronic mail messages from more than one electronic mail address with a single user interface. (col. 3, lines 35-66, col. 5, lines 24-37)

Conclusion

Examiner's note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings of the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant in
